Dear Friends:

As an Expressive Artist, I began my work with children in 1977. I have taught and directed several children's programs on both the West and East Coasts. I specialize in creating environments that will nurture self-expression, the creative potential, the imagination and the ability to envision. My work is both strongly colored and integrated with Story and the Expressive Arts. I enjoy developing programs that allow the imaginative spirit to soar, giving those involved the opportunity to discover within themselves, who they are, and what they can become.

Story and the Expressive Arts can be great avenues for self-growth and discovery. As an artist, educator and parent, I invite you to join me in enriching our children's lives, so they can learn to "fly".
